PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

In this message, I'd like to address the need for more of our members to step up and volunteer for events and activities of our association. We have a very dedicated and long time board member, Jacqui Bravo, needing to scale back her duties. Jacqui has been wearing many hats during her long tenure. As Treasurer, she has been handling our finances and would like to pass this responsibility on by the end of the fiscal year. She also manages our data base and oversees the printing of our directory. She collects our annual dues for membership and even manages our website, monitors email and fields phone calls.

There are also other opportunities available like helping out with 1st Thursday receptions, assisting during ingatherings, and, of course, sitting at Gallery 113. Please consider becoming more involved by just emailing us at SBAAdata@aol.com and saying "I want to help." Or you can contact me or any other board member and just talk with us about what you feel comfortable doing. As an organization, we want to move forward on many fronts. But we can't be an active organization without active members. Thank you.

—Terrance Wimmer

Thanks to all of you who have been hosting in the last month. Valeria was chosen to have a free entry in an upcoming gathering. Art bins do come up for rental, so if you're interested, be sure and have Carol Dixon put you on the list. dixon@education.ucsb.edu. Contact Denise Carey deniseacarey@cox.net if you are interested in a cubby. Darlene Roker is in charge of walls and Barbara Hershberg is in charge of training. Barb.hershberg@gmail.com

In order to make our business manager's job less stressful, Andie is reviewing the daily envelopes weekly to see if she can catch errors before Christine picks up the paperwork. Remind any artist friends that SBAA is having a new member gathering at the Schott Center on Saturday, Sept. 21st, from 10:00 – 12:30. As you know, it is up to all of us to tidy and clean the gallery. We even have a brand new vacuum cleaner that can be used on the carpet and the floor! New pedestals are being built to unify the look of the Gallery. Skip Lau, a former professional house painter, has offered to paint the gallery and fill in the holes for the low price of $3,000. A note will be coming your way about how you might contribute to this project. Our rent will increase, (again,) next year, so we have to be careful about not draining money from our reserves. La Arcada, was generous enough to replace the carpet upstairs.

Lastly, there will be no regular gathering in November as we are hosting a show for high school artists. The Artist of the Month, and the Featured artists will remain the same.
